

Grace and Peace to you these beautiful autumn days!

It was exciting to see so many in the parlour yesterday to talk about the possible property re-development. The next session will be October 29th.

This is another busy week with Stewardship & Finance meeting Tuesday, Council meeting Wednesday and Presbytery meeting Thursday!

Sunday is Worldwide Communion and the following week is Thanksgiving. On that Sunday, we will be welcoming new members who wish to join our Wilmot household of faith. What a great thing to celebrate!

This season of the Church year is called Creation time. The wonder of creation shines all around us. I look forward to seeing you Sunday.

Until then, here's a poem to guide your week:

"Some Questions You Might Ask" by Mary Oliver

Is the soul solid, like iron?
Or is it tender and breakable, like the wings of a moth in the beak of the owl?
Who has it, and who doesn't?
I keep looking around me.
The face of the moose is as sad
as the face of Jesus.
The swan opens her white wings slowly.
In the fall, the black bear carries leaves into the darkness.
One question leads to another.
Does it have a shape? Like an iceberg?
Like the eye of a hummingbird?
Does it have one lung, like the snake and the scallop?
Why should I have it, and not the anteater who loves her children?
Why should I have it, and not the camel?
Come to think of it, what about the maple trees?
What about the blue iris?
What about all the little stones, sitting alone in the moonlight?
What about roses, and lemons, and their shining leaves?
What about the grass?
